RAVEN

墨色至

Introduction

The most up-to-date trend of SXXL is to explore the unknown secret of life, blur the terminator and activate the night element.

Underwear for ladies is usually decorated with flashing decorations and delicate patterns; the materials are tend to be dark colored with smooth surface preparation. A suitable design for various occasions is a key point for underwear production. A set of comfortable and fashionable underwear for the whole day is ladies' first choice.

Since daytime is shorter in winter, black, dark blue and deep purple colors are more popular in winter, especially at parties. To catch up the fashion trend, it is important to develop a new design style according to this theory.

Introduction

The exploration of the upcoming fetish trend and sustainable development is going to have a great impact on the design, production, and for underwear, the natural materials and sustainable production will become the focus.

A comfy and simple design, fashionable and luxury texture and customized complex lines form the light layered style, while sustainable materials are given more attention. During the process of sustainable production, water and chemical substances take less proportion, such as organic cotton, recycling fabric, wool, silk and bamboo.

The middle color tone and soft grey in this trend are the retailers' perfect choice for early winter to welcome the coming cold weather. Use this trend to open a new chapter of design.

Introduction

The impact source of SXXL demonstrates the entry luxury vintage style. It also focuses on blurring the boundary of human and technology and explores the merging of reality and virtuality, tactility and technology, and pass and present.

Mixing vintage and modern elements together is a very popular design technique to create classic but modern styles. In this tendency, the 70s low-key style combines with the new light high-tech materials.

The leading color of this impact source trend is pinkish and complex bright colors, which is good for spring-welcome. Use this trend to open a new chapter of design.

NEW VISION 新视觉

Introduction

In this full-of-screen world, SXXL's new version trend is committed to discover the human's vision of getting close to the nature.

The original style of surface and texture and the imitation of the materials with irregular patterns and natural touch are vital for underwear. Wildflower pattern is tending to be softer to show the accessibility and loveliness of nature.

To greet the cold weather, semi-strong and bright saturated colors and dark earthy colors are perfect for autumn. The following pages can help to accelerate the product developing process.
